A Special Article from the Library

It's a wintery wonderland during January. Books about snow and animals that live in cold places are on display.

Suggested reading:

- ❄ Gary Paulsen's adventure books including Tracker and Dog Team;
- ❄ Snow, Snow: Winter Poems for Children and other books by Jane Yolen;
- ❄ author Jan Brett with titles such as The Hat and The Mitten.

Also, this month the third, fourth, and fifth grade classes will be learning about and reviewing a program we use for research called The Big 6. The steps in The Big 6 help students focus their research and organize information they collect. See www.big6.com for articles explaining the process and examples of how it's used. We will also be learning about citing our sources, whether text or pictures.

Snuggling up to read,
Ms. Fesenmaier

Don't forget to follow the famous Alaskan dog sled race, The Iditarod, which will start this year on Saturday, March 2. Find the link on the Eastview library's homepage under "What's New?"

Be sure to check your child's progress on Accelerated Reader through Home Connect. Find this link at Eastview's Library Homepage. You may also sign up for email alerts each time your child takes a quiz!

Quarter 2 ends January 18.
